Flood County Park

A 21-acre urban escape located within the city limits of Menlo Park, Flood County Park offers accessible picnic areas, paths, and restrooms, group picnic areas, and a large play structure.

The shady picnic areas beneath the Park's gorgeous trees are popular gathering spots for families and large groups.

Most of the Park's adobe buildings were built in the 1930s by the Work Progress Administration.

Accessible facilities and play areas at Flood were designed to accommodate wheelchairs, which can easily reach benches, swings, sandboxes, and restrooms.
